British Ship Oscar Sinks a Vessel in Mid-Ocean.

SIX OF THE OSCAR'S CREW LOST.

In Addition the Entire Crew of the Unknown Vessel Were Drowned-Terrible Sufferings of the Seventeen Survivors. Sixty Lives Lost Off New South Wales.

PHILAPELPHIA, Aug. 9 The British ship Prince Oscar, from Liverpool, Captain Henderson, collided in mid-ocean on July 13 with an unknown sailing vessel. Both ships sank in less than ten minutes. Oscar and all on board the unknown vessel were lost. The survivors, seventeen in number, were rescued by the ship Dharwar, after having been confined in an open boat, with neither food nor water, for three days. They were transferred to the British steamship Capac, from Pisaqua, and brought to this port last night.

The disaster occurred shortly after midnight. The Prince Oscar, which was boand from Shields, for Iquique, laden with coal, was going at a chapping gait on the port tack before a brisk wind and with all canvas set. It is estimated by the crew that she was making about six and a half knots an hour, when suddenly there loomed up directly under her bows a four masted vessel. The mate asserts that the stranger had no lights burning, and after she was sighted it was impossible to alter the course of the Prince Oscar.

The iron hull of the latter struck the unknown full amidships, knocking her nimost on her beam end and crashing through the woodwork until her prow was more than hall buried. The stranger went over almost on her beam ends as the Prince Oscar backed away from the rebound. As the erew of the Prince Oscar stood peering through the darkness they saw the stranger partially right herself, and then she rapidly began to sink. They listened in vain for some signs of life, but not a cry for help nor a word of command came from the stricken vessel. In less than four minutes from the time she was struck the stranger keeled over and plunged stern first into the depths below. Captain Henderson, of the Prince Oscar, who was below in his berth, rushed on deck just in time to discover that his ship was also sinking. The pumps were manned, but in less time than it takes to tell it it was discovered that there was no hope from that source. Lifeboats were ordered cut adrift, and the men were told to jump and swim for their lives. They all went overhoard, and, with the exception of two unfortunates, reached the small boats. Captain Henderson, who was the last man to leave the ship, went over in his night garments, and swam fully two miles before he was picked up.

Both hoats hovered about the scene of the wreck until daylight came in au effort to rescue the two missing members of the Prince Oscar's crew and any members of the crew of the stranger who might have been fortunate enough to have kept affoat. They found no one, however, and nothing to indicate the name, home or destination of their companions in misfortune. Finally they left the scene and headed they knew not exactly where.

Twenty-four hours later a heavy sea struck the boat commanded by Mato Lynch and capsized it. Her occupants, eight in number, were thrown into the sea, and the already overcrowded craft which Captain Henderson commanded put quickly to the rescue. They were successful in getting four of the men aboard. The rest were drowned.

There were now seventeen men in the small lifeboat, with nothing to cat, nothing to drink, and barely room to stretch ing to drink, and barely room to stretch their weary limbs. The sun was broiling hot, and their hunger and thirst was al-most unbearable. Toward evening of the second day one of the crew discovered a shruli cask of fish oil stowed away in the little boat. This was dealt out to the survivors in small doses, and they used it to mosten their parched lips and tongues. Most of the men were partially naked, having had no time to secure any clothes before leaving their vessel.

For three days and nights they floated thus on the South Atlantic, and just as they were about to abandon hope they signed the ship Dharwar, from London. bound to Melbourne. They succeeded in attracting the attention of those on board and were soon upon her decks. They were recorded every attention and furnished with food, drink and clothes, and four y_S later were put aboard the Capac bound for this port.

These lost by the disaster were: William Neilson, seaman, of Christiania; E. Peteren, seaman, of Denmark; August Carron, deck boy, of Ostend; I. Relap, of Douglass, Isle of Man; J. Anderson, steward, of Liverpool; the entire crew of the unknown vessel.

WARSHIPS ARE NEEDED

To Protect American Missionaries in China.

THE MISSION AT INGHOK LOOTED.

Chinese Soldiers Plunder the Residence of Murdered Missionary Stewart-Miss Hartford, a Survivor of the Hwasang Massacre, Relate, Her Experiences.

New York, Aug. 9.—The World today prints the following special dispatches from Foo Chow, China:

A mob has just looted the American mission chapel at Inghok, flity miles from here. Unless prompt, effective action is taken there is danger of great riots in other places. The Chinese soldiers sent to Kucheng to protect foreign property plundered the Stewart residence. No American ganboat has come here. An of-ficial on his way to this city from Ku-cheng was killed on Wednesday. There is no American protection. The American governmentⁱs neglect is infamous. The situation is critical. The evidence aiready obtained shows that the massacre at Hwasang was planned at least a week before hand. The foreign consuls have the names of the leaders in it, and of some of the partici-

An official of Foo Chow sent 210 soldiers into that section on July 24 to prevent the Vegetarians from murdering Chinese. The Vegetarians thought the missionaries had gaused the troops to be sent, and decided to kill them. They began immediately to gather at a certain designated place, and in passing through the villages on their way to the rendezvous they publicly de-clared their intention to destroy the churches and to kill the Christains. The night before the massacre a native pastor in the city of Kucheng heard that the Vegetarians were going to kill the foreigners on the morrow. He wrote a letter of warning to Mr. Stowart at Hwasang, but delayed sending it until daylight, and the messenger arrived half an hour too late. Dr. Gregory was in the city of Kucheng at the time, but he was not notified. The foreigners had no suspicion of the intended slaughter.

The World also prints in a special cablegram from Shanghai, China, an account of the massacre of missionaries at Hwasang, written by Miss Mabel C. Hartford, one of the survivors of the massacre, and the only American who witnessed it. Miss Hartford's statement follows:

"Aug. -1...at 7:30 a. m., I-heard shouts.

They were the yells of the servants, who rushed in shouting to me to get up, for the Vegetarians were coming, tearing down the houses on the hill belonging to the English missions. "A few minutes later a teacher came to my door and told me to run. I put on my clothes and rushed to the door. I was met by a man with a trident spear, who yelled: 'Here is a foreign woman.' He pointed the spear at my chest. I twisted it to one side, and it just grazed my car and head. He threw me to the ground and beat me with the wooden end of the spear. A servant came and wrenched the spear away, then told me to run. I jumped down the embankment and ran along the road. A servant came and pulled me along until I got up on the side of the hill. I then lay down there to get more breath. After resting twice I reached a secluded spot and lay there. All this time the yells went on, and two houses were burned to the ground.

"After awhile the yells stopped. I supposed the Vegetarians had gone away. A servant went to see how matters were. He returned in half an hour, telling me to come home, that five ladies of the English mission had been killed and some had been wounded, but that my house—a rented native house-had not been troubled. at all. I went home to find Miss Codrington much cut about the head and beaten all over, and did what I could for her and wounded ones. Dr. Gregory arrived at night and dressed the wounds of the pa-

"Mr. Phillips, of the English mission, who lived in a native house some distance away, escaped all injury, only arriving in time to see the bodies of the dead and hear the Vegetarians say: 'We have killed all the foreigners.'

"Mr. Phillips went to the rains and found eight bodies; five not burned and three burned so as not to be recognizable. Coffins were made and the bodies were put in them. The bones of the burned were put in boxes.

"Another burned body was found, making nine grown people massacred-R. J. Stewart and his wife, a nurse from Ireland called Lena, Nellie Saunders and Topsy Saunders of Australia, Hessie Newcomb of Ireland, Elsie Marshall and Lucy Stewart of England, and Annie Gordon of Australia. Herbert Stewart died a few hours later.

"The first four were burned beyond recognition. Topsy ran out of the house and was killed outside. Hessie was thrown down the embankment with her head nearly severed from her shoulders. Annic Gordon's head was also nearly cut off.

"The bodies were put in coffins, and we left Hwasang for Suikow about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, Aug. 2. We reached Suikow about Sa m. Saturday, and telegraphed to Foo Chow for a steam launch. We left Suikow in native boats at 3 p. m., and on Sunday morning met a steam launch golng towards Sulkow taking soldiers. We engaged it to tow us to Foo Chow. Soon afterwards we met the resening party in a launch. The party consisted of the United States marshal and two English missionaries, bringing full supplies for the sufferers.

Soldiers Looting Kucheng.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.-The secretary of the Methodist board of foreign missions, Rev. Dr. A. D. Leonard, received from Dr. Smyth, the president of the Anglo-China college at Foo Chow, the following cablegram: "Soldiers looting Kucheng. For-eigners all safe at Foo Chow. No efficient means have been taken to arrest murderers. Appeal to Washington to rouse Denby." Dr. Leonard says he has no doubt that the American missionaries have gone to the nearest central cities, where they enjoy much better protection than in the

JUSTICE JACKSON DEAD.

The Sufferings of the Distinguished Southern Jurist Ended.

HIS LAST OFFICIAL APPEARANCE.

It Was on the Occasion of the Final Hearing on the Income Tax Cases, When He Rendered an Opinion Sustaining the Legality of the Tax.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 9.-The Hon. Howell Edmunds Jackson, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, died at his residence at West Mead, five miles west of this city, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the 64th year of his age, of consumption.

Judge Jackson had been in failing health for the past four years, but it has been only in the past eight or ten days that the progress of the disease began to cause his family and friends uneasiness. Last year he went to the far west in search of health. Later he went to Thomasville, Ga., where it was hoped the mild and yet bracing climate would restore his one time vigorous constitution.

The trip did him little good, and after a time he was brought home. At his old home Judge Jackson seemed to improve slightly until be went to Washington to sit in the second hearing of the income tax cases. He stood that trying trip only fairly well, and after his return home appeared to lose strength rapidly. Nevertheless Judge Jackson never took to his bed notil Wednesday of last week. Since that time his family and friends realized that the end was near and his death was not unexpected.

When Justice Jackson was so seriously ill last spring that he was not expected to recover the name of his successor was considerably speculated in. The idea was suggested by some that the president would again name Messrs. Peckham or Hornblewer, of New York, while the selection of a man from the west fell to Don Dickinson. Postmaster General Wilson was strongly spoken of as among the pos-sibilities, while the majority of opinion was that Secretary Carlisle could have the place if he wanted it. Mr. Carlisle would be especially eligible, as he would be appointed from the same district that the death of Justice Jackson has made va-

The last time Judge Jackson was in Washington was on the occasion of the rehearing in the income tax cases last May. He had been absent from the city and from the bench since the preceding fall, when, soon after the convening of the October term of court, he had been compelled to come south on account of his rapidly declining health. During his absence there had been contradictory reports as to his physical condition, but the prevailing opinion among his colleagues on the bench was that he would never again be able to resume his seat.

Mr. Jackson had the reputation in Washington, and especially about the supreme court, of being very sensative concerning any discussion of his health in the public press, and he referred to the subject very sparingly in his own conversation. The other members of the court were, therefore, poorly advised as to his condition. This state of afters is said to have been the reason for the equivocal character of the announcement of the decision to grant a rehearing in the meome tax cases, which of necessity depended upon Jackson's presence

He was in Washington on the occasion of the rehearing for several days, and gave his attention assiduously to the income tax cases. He sat through the argument, which continued for three days, took part part in the consulation of the court, and when the day arrived for the announcement of the decision not only listened patiently to the opinions of most of the other members of the court, but delivered a vigorous opinion of his own in support of the validity of the law. This occurred on May 20, and was his last public appearance. He returned to his home in Tennessee late in

When Judge Jackson was in Washington on this occasion it was evident to all who came in contact with him that life was slowly but surely ebbing away, and that the effort he made was at the expense of his vitality. As senator and justice of the supreme court Mr. Jackson had resided in Washington about eight years. His associates here were confined to his colleagues on the bench and in the senate chamber. By them he was universally esteemed as a man of high moral worth and rich intellectual attainments, as was evinced in nothing so much as in his appointment to the supreme bench by President Harrison and his confirmation by a Republican senate, notwithstanding he was a Democrat.

Howell Edmunds Jackson was born in Paris, Tenn . April 8, 1832. Justice Jackson was a classical scholar, graduating from the West Tennessee college in 1848. He studied law two years at the University and in Jackson, under his kinsmen, Judges A. W. O. Totten and Milton Brown; graduated from the Lebanon Law school in 1856, in which year he located in Jackson and engaged in the practice of his profession; removed to Memphis in lans. Vezzo was arrested.

1859, where he continued the practice of law; served on the supreme beach by appointment on two occasions, and was once a prominent candidate for supremo judge before the nominating convention. He relocated in Jackson in 1876; was elected to the state house of representatives in 1880, on the state credit platform; was elected to the United States senate as a Democrat in 1881, and served in that capacity till April 12, 1886. He was appointed United States circuit judge by President Cleveland, and nominated for associate justice of the supreme court by President Harrison, being confirmed by the senate Feb. 18, 1893, and entering upon the duties of the office March 4, 1893.

Two Sisters Fatally Stabbed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.-Rosic Weil, 25 years old, and her sister Kate, 18 years old, were both seriously stabbed in the street yesterday by Phillip Giampata, 46 years old, an Italian shoemaker. Rosie was stabbed nine times and Kate received seven wounds. Giampata came to this country five years ago. Two years ago ho met Kate Well, and after a time she went to live with him. Eight months ago she became a mother, and after that she and Giampata did not live happily together. Finally she left him, and also the child. He repeatedly asked Katie to take back the child, and she as repeatedly refused. Last week, tiring of his persistency, she secured a warrant for his arrest. This so enraged the Italian that he lay in wait for the girls, and the stabbing followed. It is thought neither girl can recover.

An Adventurous History.

DENVER, Aug. 9.-Jim Clarke, the Rio Grande railroad detective, who was shot and killed in the street at Telluride on Wednesday by an unknown assassin, was formerly a desperate outlaw, and is believed to have himself killed more than a score of men. During the war he was a member of Quantrell's band of guerillas. Afterwards he was a government scout and Indian fighter. He was a member of the Jesse James gang, and after it was broken up he committed numerous stage robberies in the northwest. Eight years ago he settled in Telluride, where he served a long time as town marshal, effecting a strict observance of the law. He had the reputation of being one of the best shots in the world.

When Detective Goyer left for the west the other day Inspector Gray, of the insurance company, accompanied him.

Tillman Versus Dickie.

PROHIBITION PARK, S. I., Aug. 9.-Ex-Governor Tiliman, of South Carolina, and Professor Samuel Dickie, president of the National Prohibition party, met at the Auditorium here last night in a debate on the state liquor dispensary system. The jury, consisting of local newspaper editors, prominent politicians and represent-atives of the Democratic, Republican and Prohibition parties, were unable to arrive at a decision, and will give the matter further consideration. Ex-Governor Tillman spoke on the South Carolina dispensary system, and declared that intemperance had been greatly lessened under the new order. He held that the open saloon, with its seductive influences, brought about every possible evil, while prohibition resulted in "speak easies" and hypocrisy. Professor Dickie was emphatic in his denunciation of the South Carolina dispensary system, and said that it had been introduced into that state because the people had been afraid to stand for prohi-

HISTORY IS HER FORTE.

Mme. Rugozin, Cosmopolite, Journalist and Historian of Rare Talent.

One of the few successful women historians in America is Mme. Zenaide A. Ragozin, a Russian lady of noble birth and breeding, who has resided in this country for about a score of years and is a citizen of the United States. That she is considerable of a cosmopolite is shown by the fact that she was born in Russia, educated in Itady and lives in the United States. Her father, whose name was Verderevsky, was descended from a Tartar noble who was among those conquered by the Russian czar, Ivan the Terrible. The family was very well to do until the czar's proclamation freeing the serfs rained it.

In this emergency Mmc. Ragozin's careful education proved very valuable to her and her family. She secured a position on the staff of The Golos, one of the greatest daily newspapers then published in St. Petersburg, but since suppressed by the government. As she was familiar with half a dozen langnages she was given an important position in the department of politics and translated all foreign political news.

About this time she became a wife, but this fact did not altogether interrupt her literary activity. Twenty years ago her husband died and she came to America.

For a time after her arrival in New York Mme. Ragozin taught history, languages, music and literature, but for a number of years she has mainly devoted her time to historical writing. Her volumes thus far finished are: "The Story of Chaldea," telling of the nation from the earliest times to the rise of Assyria; "The Story of Assyria," from the rise of the empire to the fall of Nineveh; "Media, Babylon and Persia," including a study of the Zendavesta, or religion of Zoroaster; "The Story of Vedic India," as embodied principally in the Rig-Veda. This will be followed by "Brahmanic India." Mme. Ragozin is also the translator of "The Empire of the Tsars," by M. An atole Leroy-Beaulieu.

Lead Pencils.

The ordinary sized lead pencil, such as one gets when he goes into a store and asks for "a lead pencil," is seven inches in length and a trifle more than a quarter of an inch thick. Pencils are made in many different styles and shapes and for many uses. Special pencils of very small diameter are made for mathematical instruments. Another small diameter pencil is the programme pencil made for dancing orders, of which the sale in this country is estimated at 5,000 gross annually. Programme pencils are made round and hexagon in shape and finished in a variety of colors and styles. Some are wound with silk. Programme pencils are sold sharpened and with a ring and a cord and tassel attached, ready for use. Other small pencils made are those used for tablets and memorandum books. Checking pencils, with red, blue and green crayous, are now used extensively in commercial establishments and by express and railroad companies and in almost every office. Thousands of gross of checking pencils are sold annually, and the sale of them is constantly increasing. Crayon pencils for various uses are made of all colors and in many tints. - New York

Acid In Oysters.

In a paper read before the Paris Academy of Sciences, as reported in La Na-ture, Messrs. Chatin and Muntz described their experiments to determine the amount of phosphorus in different kinds of oysters. "A dozen oysters of the variety known as Portuguese contained four grams (62 grains) of phosphoric acid, representing one gram of the tribasic phosphate of lime found in boxes. The French oysters are less rich. They contain only two-thirds as much phosphorus as the Portuguese oysters. This determination is important from the point of view of the nutritive properties of different kinds of oysters.

C. MACARDELL, JR. - BUSINESS MANAGER FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1895,

The Warwick Advertiser adds to the long list of Republican candidates for local nominations the names of Special County Judge Fullerton, of Port Jervis, and Recorder Bradrer, of this city, as willing to serve the county as District Atto. ney in the event of Mr. Hirschberg obtaining a Supreme Court nomination and giving up his present office.

The article in the next column, showing by a comparison of the State tax of 1894 with that of 1895, what one year of Republican rule has cost the several counties of the State is well worth careful consideration by every citizen. Orange county's share of the $4,457,154 of increased taxes levied by the Republican Legislature is $47,549.47; Sullivan county, with its small assessed valuation, is loaded up with $5,601; Rockland county's share is $14,259, Ulster county must pay $27,251, and Delaware, $15,403.

The Tribune, with sagacity which does it credit, has of late been printing the current advices of wage advances, together with all other happenings serving to lend tone to confidence in a new era of prosperity for the whole American people. Not sc. however, the New York Press, and it is most amusing to read the silly effort of that sheet, day by day, to throw cold water on the newly kindled fires of industry under headway in every section of the country. The Press would act the part of wisdom did it gracefully take the medito make a standing in court for a case already lost.

Tabulated Statement of the Expense of the 3.24 Tax Rate.

AN ENORMOUS AGGREGATE.

Imposed Upon Each of the Sixty Counties of the State by the Extravagant and Inexcusable Increase In the Tax Kate.

What did the increase of the tax rate to the war figures of 3 24, caused by the extravagance, corruption and saturnalia of wickedness at the capitol at Albany, and executive indifference, and the neglect of the veto power mean to the several counties of the stater

It meant a great increase of the state tax burden, of which each county must bear its proportionate share. But what is that share for each separate county'

It is the purpose of the table herewith presented to answer that question to the enlightenment, if not the satisfaction, of the long suffering taxpayers of the state of New York

This is a statement of comparison between tax for 1894 and computation of tax for 1895, based upon assessed valuation of 1894 The valuation of 1895 is not yet completed It will without doubt be greater than 1894, hence the statement of tax for 1895, while relatively correct, may be even greater than below computed. It will certainly not be any less

Complete administrative, executive and judicial control of state finance has resulted in this enormous fine levied upon the taxpayers for their unfortunate temporary delusion as to the purposes and character of the party which has wrought so many acts of corruption in the name of "reform "

Will the taxpayers consent to return to legislative or administrative power a party whose control of the purse strings of the state so enormously and so unaccountably increases the tax burden without in any cine of prosperity under Democratic | manner bettering the conditions of state tariff. As it is, that caper is trying government, but on the contrary produc ing a steady deterioration all along the

> For the privilege of being misrepresented by three out of four assemblymen, Republicans, Albany county pays an increase of nearly $100,000 in her state tax

In Eric county, five out of six of whose assemblymen and both of whose senators were Republicans, the increased state tax is $263,000

In Kings county, a large majority of whose delegation was Republican in both branches, the increase is over half a million of dollars

Your Ice Cream-is its flavoring pure?

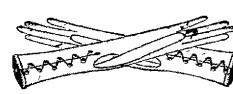

Of all flavors PURE Vanilia is best suited for a cultured palate or a delicate stomach.

If you buy Vanilla Ice Cream insist upon PURE Vanilla. We are large manufacturers of this Extract, and we want everyone to know a pure vanilla flavor when he tastes it.

When you drink our Vanilla Ice Gream Soda Water, notice the delicacy yet clearness of the flavor. THAT'S PURE Vanilla of the nighest type. Then when you drink it elsewhere, notice the difference. If different, it's adulterated. Some ice cream makers, from a mistaken idea of economy, use adulterated Extract Vanilla.

We offer pure Extract Vanilla at a fair price to everyone—the quantity required (a small teaspoorful to a quart of avenue. ice cream-no more) makes it true economy to use our Premium Extract Vanilla. What do you use? What does your ice cream maker use?

HE IS A WONDER STILL.

The Middletown Physicians Unable to Explain the Pecaliar Powers of Harry Flizgerald

A large number of Middletown physicians and a few friends of Dr. W. E. Douglas were present at his residence, last evening, when Mr. Harry Fitzgerald, of New York, the "anatomical wonder," gave an exhibition of his surprising ability to dislocate any joint in his body and reduce the dislocation at will.

The Middletown physicians are as much at a loss for a theory to account for the peculiar power possessed by Fitzgerald as are members of the medical profession elsewhere.

Mr. Fitzgerald, himself, is unable to explain why he can exercise such control over his joints and muscles, and says he has for many years given physicians a chance to tell him all abou: i, but, much to his regret, they have not done it.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH FOR POLES

The Corner Stone of a Catholic Church for Poles Laid at Florida, Yesterday.

The corner stone of St. Joseph's Catholic Church for Poles, at Florida, N Y., was solemnly blessed and placed in position, yesterday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, by the Very Rev. William L. Penny, V. F, of Newburgh, N. Y.

There are in Florida about 125 Polish families and they came forward, yesterday, with a determination to make this parish a success, at least judging by their numbers and the good will and statements expressed.

The Very Rev. Dean Penny first blessed the cross which was placed in the position where the altar rests, after which he proceeded to the corner stone, which he blessed and placed in position, the reverend clergy assisting, meanwhile reciting the Li any of the Saints.

This being finished, the reverend clergy proceeded to the place where the cross was blessed, and, at the earnest wish of the Poles, the Very Rev. Dean Penny made an address to them, which was one of congratulation and encouragement, both to the people and their young pastor, Rev. Stanislaus Nowak, who was educated in St. Joseph's Seminary at Troy, N. Y, and ordained less than a year ago. Rev. Dr. Mitescki, of Meridan, Conn., followed with a sermon in Polish, giving as his text the words, "This is the day which the Lord made, let us rejoice and be glad therein;" Psalm 117.

The Polish people were delighted with the sermon, as was noticed by the many visitors.

At first Dr. Mitescki spoke about the faith of ancient Poland, how their forefathers had suffered and are suffering for the faith, and now, thank God, when the Polish people are looking forward to liberty, they behold the inviting arm of America

He besought them to be loyal Catholics and true American citizens, and when he made this request all bended their knees and promised Almighty God that they would do so.

After Dr. Miteschi's sermon the pastor, Father Nowak, spoke for a lew minutes, thanking the reverend clergy and people for their attendance and asking them to ald him to do the great work of saving souls.

The following were present besides the Rev. Dean Penny: Very Rev. Dean Sweeney, of Kingston; Revs P. E. McCorry, Goshen; F. E. Harrigan, Chester; Joseph Duelsxi, Baltimore, M. D.; Wm R. Butler, Middletown, and John B. McGrath, Gardiner.

A BOSS RIDDEN TOWN.

A Newburgh Clergymen Tells the Christian Endeavorers That Their City Is The Christian Endeavorers, of

Newburgh, held an "echo meeting," Wednesday evening. The principal address was made by Rev. J. W. F. Carlisle, and in the course of it he spoke of Newburgh as a boss-ridden town, declaring that it "is suffering from the fact that we have few men and women who have the power of thinking for themselves. I speak of it candidly and carefully. Newburgh thought, politically and socially, is enslaved. You can count on your fingers the men who think for themselves." Mr. Carlisle declared that the Republican press had not dared to oppose Mr. Platt, and that what Newburgh wanted was not political bosses but men broad enough and great enough to be leaders.

From Our Regular Correspondent

--In a crowded car coming from Midway, Wednesday night, a young man from this village received a blow from an umbrella which he will long remember. It was struck by a woman and this is the way the story is told. The young man was in a hurry to alight from the crowded car, and the lady, who was pretty well squeezed in her seat, thought he used too much force in trying to pass her, whereupon she struck him with her umbrella. A number of those who saw the affair say after the young man alighted from the car he never stopped running until he was far out of sight. He was evidently afraid of the woman.

THE MAYA WOMEN.

THEY ARE INTELLIGENT, SWEET TEM-PERED AND BEAUTIFUL.

In the Olden Times These Wives of the Pirst Owners of America Were the Mothers of a Courageous Race, and They Never Looked Into a Mirror.

An unfamiliar word, but as old as the hills almost, is this word Maya. Among the Brahmans it means illusion and is the name of the earth, the material world, which, according to the Brahmanical doctrine, is nonexistent - an illusion. Maya Devi was the name of the beautiful mother of Buddha. Maya in the feminine energy of Brahma and the mother of all the gods, even of Brahma himself. Any Greek dictionary informs us that Maya is the good mother of all gods and men. In Japan the goddess Maya is still worshiped. The beautiful Indian poem "Ramayana" tells us about a great navigator named Maya, who in ages long gone by took forcible possession of the countries at the south of the Hindoostanee peninsula and settled there.

The Maya people of America were in olden times a great nation, occupying the territory comprised between the isthmus of Tehnantepec and that of Darien. We know that they were navigators, their boats being depicted in very ancient books and paintings. In 1502, when Columbus came to America for the fourth time, he met on the high seas a large boat, in which were men, women and children. It also had a cargo of merchandise, consisting of weapons, tools, products of the earth and ready made garments. The travelers called themselves Mayas. They were in the habit of traveling to Cuba and other islands to trade with their inhabitants. The Mayas were neatly clothed in white cotton raiment. They were self possessed and courteous. Fifteen years later their land, today called Yucatan, was invaded by the Spaniards, but it cost the white men 25 years of warfare to get control of that country, for every Maya fought like a hero. They were sons of fearless mothers. In reading the works left by the Spanish chroniclers-priests who accompanied the soldiers—we learn that the Maya women were very good looking, as many are at the present day; that they were charitable, sweet tempered, industrious, modest and so free bers, and a fine variety of Canned from vanity that they never consulted the mirror, although their husbands did. In physique these women were large and beautifully shaped.

Their complexion was a light brown, and their silky black hair very abundant. Father Cogolludo, a Spanish priest, wrote, "These women are more beautiful and better tempered than those of Spain." They always dressed themselves, as they do at the present time. in flowing white garments, and in their happier days were greatly addicted to the use of perfumes and flowers. They were industrious, devoted wives and fond mothers, but exacted great defernce from their children. Their ideas of modesty were so strict that they did not permit their daughters to look boldly into the face of a man, and if a girl showed a want of shyness the indignant matron would pinch her arms. After the Spaniards were in possession of the land they subjected these wemen to indiguities and ernelty. Among many other things it is recorded that in one village they found two young women of remarkable beauty, one a bride, the other a maiden, and they hanged both, so that there should be no trouble about them. Many young mothers were hung from trees and their infants suspended from their feet. Those who escaped death were enslaved with their husbands and children.

Long ago, as far back as our studies enable us to know anything about that nation, the Maya women seem to have enjoyed the same privileges as the men, to have had equal power in politics and equal authority.

Tealay, when business is to be transacted, the wife takes the active part, her husband nodding his head affirmatively. It is not that she desires to domineer. but because he looks up to her, relying on her judgment. She complies with admirable moderation and modesty. She is eloquent and forceful without being loquacious, and she never scolds. When her husband gets himself into trouble, she pleads for him, being a more able reasoner than he is. If he gets intoxicated, she guides him home. If he strikes her, she says, "He does not know what he is doing," regarding him with angelic forbearance, so that domestic brawls are quite unknown. It is her pleasure to give him the best of what they have, keeping for herself the

This woman's home has a thatched roof and earthen floor. She has no pretty objects around her. Hammecks serve as seats by day as well as beds by night. There is one low chair or stool on which she sits while her busy fingers make the garments of the family. In one corner stands a bench and grinding stones. Her hands grind all the corn used in that humble abode. The fire is built on the floor between three stones, on which rests the clay pot or the disk for baking tortillas. Ontside at the back of the hut there is a long dugent, serving as a washtub, resting on trestles. There she stands for some hours every day, her small feet have, soapsads up to her elbows, yet her hands are small and pretty, her voice is sweet and low, her language never rade, and if you approach her but she welcomes you with such perfeet grace and self possession, mingled with cordiglity, that you ask yourself if she is not a princess in disguise. She may be, but, alas! the palaces of her sires are crumbling away in the forests where her husband cuts timber for his master, the white man, now owner of the soil. The dying race must bear its fate, and the Maya women meets it nobly, with resignation and grace.-

O DISEASE has ever presented so many peculiarities as LaGrippe. No disease leaves its victims so debilitated, useless, sicopiess, nerveless, as LaGrippo.
Mr. D. W. Hilton, state agent of the Mut-

"In 1889 and '90 I had two severe attacks of LaGrippe, the last one attacking my neryous system with such severity that my life was despaired of. I had not slept for more than two months except by the use of nur-cotics that stupefied me, but gave me no rest. I was only conscious of intense mental weakness, agonizing bodily pain and the fact that I was bourly growing weaker.

When in this condition, I commenced using Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine. In two days began to improve and in one month's time was cured, much to the surprise of all who knew of my condition. I have been in exrelient hearth since and have recommended your remedies to many of my friends."

FORGED HIS PARDON.

REMARKABLE PENMANSHIP OF A CLEVER COLORED CONVICT.

The Notorious Career of George Lewis. Started by Signing Forged Orders In the War Department-How He Raised a Draft From $2 to $20,000.

The authorities of Leavenworth county, Kan., are exerting every means at their command to capture. George Lewis, the notorious colored forger, who is wanted in Topeka for swindling a number of wholesale merchants out of a large amount of goods.

Lewis has a remarkable career, is a man of superior attainments and has always been a genius for forgery and conspiracy. He is about 42 years old, well educated and cultured in manner. His parents, in southern France, are well to do, and he received his education in one of the famous polytechnic schools of that country. When he was a boy, his father removed to America, and shortly after the war located in Providence. He afterward went to Virginia. The fortunes of the elder Lewis went amiss, and when George was approaching his majority he was left to his own resources. He enlisted in the Ninth cavalry, and there attracted the attention of the officers by his brightness of mind and was given important assignments of duty, finally becoming a messenger in the war department at Washington. It was while in that position that he committed his first forgery. He learned the details of the business system of the war department and became acquainted with the signatures of all of the officers. He was a splendid penman and began to imitate them. In this way he was very successful, and he uttered numerous orders on the quartermaster of his regiment for supplies, which were invariably honored. Finally he grew bolder and was caught. He was convicted and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at Lansing, Kan., which at that time was used for government prisoners.

While in prison he was given a position in the warden's office and was granted many privileges. On account of his good behavior he was given credit. and in 1888 had but three more year to serve.

It was at this time that he conceived and executed a daring plan to secure his liberty. He wrote to a friend in Washington and requested that he be sent blank letter heads and envelopes from the war department. These were smuggled to him in the prison.

On one of these letter heads he wrote a letter to John H. Smith, at that time warden of the prison, ordering his own release and forging the name of the then secretary of war, with whose signature he had become familiar by having frequently seen letters from him to Warden Smith concerning government convicts. He sent the letter properly addressed to Surith in a war department envelope to a friend in Washington, who dropped it in the mail. It was received by the warden and was about to be honored when the warden's suspicions were groused by an unusual postscript requesting him to return the or der to the department after Lewis had been released. The warden then telegraphed the department at Washington, and learning that the pardon was a forgery had Lewis taken from his position in the worden's office and put to work in the call mine. Lewis never could tell the read a why he added the postscript. As the same time he wrote his own pardon he prepared a way to get money for himself. Through a friend he purchased a draft from the Leavenworth National bank on a bank in Lynchburg, Va., for $2. He also procured a blank letter head and envelope of the bank. The draft he raised to $20,000, and on the back of it wrote an indorsement, showing that $200 had already been paid on the draft and leaving a balance due of $19,800. With a pen he forged the bank's stamp, copying it from stamps on the back of a check that came under his observation in the warden's office. The cashier of the bank received the draft and said that he would not have hesitated to have paid the money, as the draft and letter bore every indication of having come directly from the cashier of the Leavenworth bank.-Portland Orego-

WASHINGTON'S SOCIAL NAPOLEON. Deatly Gets a Hig Salary For Conducting

the Drice Campaign. The accell campa gn of the family of United States Penater Calvin S. Brice of Ohio is raid to be conducted under the exclusive management of L. Sanford Beatty, a gentleman of position, who, it is adeged, receives for his valnable services a salary of $10,000 a year. As a result of Beutty's talent as a social Napoleon and Brice's long purse and liberality the Brice social regime in Washington is an na-mailfied success. During the gay can on the Brice musicales are the talk of the country and the Brice receptions, dinners and dancing parties are the most brilliant in Washington. This may be readily imagined when it is understood that last season the Ohio senator through his social lientenant expended $50,000 on entertainments alone and that he thinks nothing of dazzling Washington with an annual expenditure of about $250,-

Beatty is said to be a cousin or a near relative of Mrs. Brice and has the entree to the most exclusive social circles at the capital He is a tall, well formed, comely man of commanding physique and is the pink of perfection in dress. He is as much of an expert in the conduct of social functions as the late Ward McAllister of New York, and he devotes his entire time to the management of the Brice entertainments.

Backed as he is by carte blanche in the matter of expenditure, Beatty has been able to turn green with envy many of the ambitious social rivals of the Brice family in Washington. Not long ago he planned a series of musicales and had the best talent that money could buy. Melba, the Australian nightingale, was induced to warble twice at the Brice mansion at $750 per warble, and one of the De Reszkes was paid $1,000 for exercising his vocal chords for about ten minutes.

Moon's Effect on Peas and Beans. In the works of most old authors who have written on the subject of agriculture, or astrology as it is supposed to affect agriculture, frequent allusions are made to the influence of the moon on the growth of plants. In all these books the husbandman is especially cautioned to sow seed of a certain kind during the increase of the moon, and those of another kind during its decrease. Peas and beans were accorded their share of this superstition, the careful gardener being especially admonished never to sow such crops during the period between new and full moon.

Sir Anthony Fitz Herbert says, "Take special care to sow your pease in the 'old' of the moon, 'cause then they will codd better and be sconer ripe."

Thomas Tusser writes to the same effect when be says:

Sow year or bean- in the wane of the moon: Who soweth them somer, he soweth too soon; That they with the planet may rest and rise, And flourish with Learning most plentiful wise -St. Louis Republic.

A Disappointing Haul.

"Some folks say," said a fisherman. "that if a fish once gets into a pound net it never gets our until it is taken out, but as a matter of fact fish often get one of pound nets. It is common for sheepshead, klaefish, Spanish mackere! and shad to get out of them. I've been to a pound net on a Sunday and counted 255 bluefish, and when the net was hauled on Monday found only four tor five. The fish get in, and if they find the opening and get started right they can get out. They follow one another like a flock of sheep. "-New York Sun.

What He Wondered. "You seem thoughtful. Henry," said

Mr. Meekton's better half. "Yes, an idea just struck me."

"What was it?" "I was wondering whether, by next season, the new woman will be gentlemanly enough to take her hat off in the theater. "-Washington Star.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsla and indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with morelief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Sold by J. E. Mills, Middletown, N. Y.

Mr. A. A. Snyder, Supt. Poor Farm, Winnesheik Co., says:-Last winter Mr. Robert Leach used two boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve and cured a large running sore on his leg. Had been under care of physicians for months without obtaining relief. W. D. O ney.

PAID HIS FARE IN POLICE COURT. A Tramp Forced to settle for His Ride on the 0 and W.-A Gang that Got

A party of seven tramps boarded a south bound freight train on the O and W. at Mountain Dale, yesterday, and when Conductor William Keller told them to leave the train they refused to do so and defied him and his crew to put them off. At Summitville word was telegraphed to this city, but the tremps got wind of it in some way and left the train shortly after it pulled out of Summitville.

One man only was on the train when it arrived in this city, and he was arrested by Officer Grant Wilson and locked up over night on a charge of stealing a ride.

This morning he gave his name as James Brown and said he boarded the train at Hancock Jun tion and had no connection with the gang that left the train at Summitville. He was given the alternative of paying his fare from Hancock Junction or going to jail and he handed Conductor Keller $2.40, the regular passenger tariff from that place to this city.
